THE DESERT TOWN.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

DAGGETT, Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A burro was the guest of honor at a swell dance here last night.

The festivities were at their height, when James Horan, a frisky miner, came riding in among the dancers on this long-eared, scabby animal.

The worst of it was that this was a bridal ball, an affair of great eclat, given in honor of G. B. Hart and bride of Hart.

Every one in Daggett's upper stratum was there.

The grand march was over; the orchestra was up, the band was up, and Daggett's audience had the ballroom with a dreamy mass of loveliness, when there came a stamping and commotion at the door.

Mister Horan, in his agitation at being late, had forgotten to dismount from his animal.

The lovely Dagget dancers screamed and scattered. Horan, very solemn and dignified, rode on into the middle of the room. Suddenly he stopped in wild gyrations; his hat skidded off, and his coat went around his ears. The burro had slid on the slippery ballroom floor.

In his struggles to regain his footing the donkey pawed and skidded and slipped some more. His front legs couldn't seem to do team work. One went forward, the other went back, the other went out, and the donkey would do the split while Horan hung frantically by the saddle pommel with both hands and dug his heels into the critter's flanks.

The burro had made the ballroom look like a vegetable garden. Horan is in disgrace.

MINES AND HORSES FIXED HIM.

Private Papers of Cashier Clark of the

Defunct Allegheny Bank Tell a

Plain Tale.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A. M.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—The private papers of E. Lee Clark, the dead cashier of the Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny, which are under examination by appraisers appointed to determine the value of Clark's estate, are showing that Clark was a member of the State organization, the California Miners' Association, in fostering the mining industry, guarding against injurious legislation, and disseminating information to the public. The local organizations in other States to aid in the work of obtaining a national Department of Mines, something proposed by Clark, was the way in which before this body was formed.

Clark's suit for a sum aggregating $90,000 was entered today by Receiver John B. Cunningham of the Enterprise National Bank against E. B. Andrew, the former well-known State legislator, at present Treasurer Delegate from New Mexico. The suit is on four notes of the defunct bank aggregating $31,000.

BOMBS FOR FEHMI PASHA.

(CONSTITUTIONAL PRESS.—A. M.)

CONSTANTINOPLE (Via Sofia, Bulgaria), Nov. 15.—Fehmi Pasha, the chief of the secret police of the palace, was intended as the victim of yesterday's bomb outrage. The pasha, however, escaped unscathed and the explosion did little damage. The bomb was thrown from the roof of a house in the main street of the Pasha's quarter, which was passing in a carriage.

The attempt on his life is attributed to the Armenians as an Armenian was discovered in the house from which the bomb was thrown.

UNION DEPOT
IS IN SIGHT.Location is Selected and the Surveys Under Way.College and San Fernando
Street Site in View.Easy of Access to Three Big Railroad Lines.

Rejuvenation of the ancient pueblo section of Los Angeles is at hand. The three great railways centering here are about to put hundreds of thousands of dollars into building enterprises in that part of the city.

If present plans mature, and there is every reasonable probability that they will, within a very few months actual work will begin on the erection of a great union depot in what has been unmercifully termed "the decaying end of Main street."

A great station to accommodate the transcontinental traffic of the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe and the Salt Lake railroads is projected to rise on the site.

Map with shaded section showing proposed site for Los Angeles Union Depot, surveys for which are now in progress.

of the present freight houses of the Southern Pacific, northeast of San Fernando street, and facing on that thoroughfare and on College street.

The details of railway connection for the three roads are all worked out; the present surveys have been completed; the final lines are being laid, and all the property necessary for this stupendous deal has been secured.

The representatives of the three companies now have in hand the details of arrangements for an equitable adjustment of the requirements for the proposed union depot and for the maintenance fund. These details, as well as those concerning the acquisition of lands, have been carried on in eastern and western headquarters, and the local railroad men have appeared but little in the whole affair.

For eight months past, agents of the railway companies have been quietly picking up pieces of property necessary to carry out their plans. Most of this has been recently completed, but later sales were closed at prices much higher in valuation that any property had ever been sold for at that vicinity.

The management and brokerage firm of the Cornish-Braly Company, was employed to make some of the deals concerned in the proposed union depot.

WOMEN IN PANIC
AT FIRE IN HOTEL.

A FIRE at the Hotel Tournaine, No. 447 South Hope street, at 6 o'clock last evening, was attended by many exciting experiences, in which half a dozen women were asphyxiated through broken windows by firemen, and two women overcome by smoke and excitement.

The Tournaine is a large tourist apartment house, two stories, but with a large basement annex, also utilized for living apartments, making it practically a three-story building.

A few minutes before 6 o'clock, Mrs. Sharp, an 11-year-old girl, who lives in room No. 2 in the basement, was attracted toward a storeroom adjoining in which she heard the crackle of flames found the room alight.

The fire broke out at the window, nearly every occupant of the house was at home, and the greatest excitement was in the comparatively short corridor, where a dozen women, filled with dense clouds of black smoke, and despite the brilliant electric lights on each floor, it was impossible to distinguish the stairways or other exits.

The fire was spreading in the semi-darkness, calling for assistance, and the prompt arrival of firemen probably prevented several fatalities.

Miss Sharp, a girl occupying room No. 2, was the first to give the alarm. In attempting to move effects to a place of safety, accidentally cut his wrist, and bled profusely. Miss Sharp, already nearly hysterical, fainted at the sight, and was carried to a place of safety down a ladder which had been prepared for the use of women.

Two other women, who had been watching the fire from the window, and the prompt arrival of firemen probably prevented several fatalities.

CASTS MOTHER INTO STREET.

Young French Noble Turns on His Aged Parent.

She Causes His Arrest on Charge of Battery.

bewitching Bride from Paris Stirs up Strife.

Punished only by her son, Robert de Kersauson, who claims the title of Marquis, son of a nobleman, the young man, turned upon his aged mother, Mme. Isabelle de Kersauson, and drove her at dark from the roof that has sheltered her for more than fourteen years.

Discrowned and dishonored by her only son, the aged mother was forced to apply to neighbors for a night's shelter, and yesterday appealed to the police.

Robert de Kersauson, the young French Marquis, who drove his aged mother from home, and his pretty bride.

for redress for what she terms the inhuman conduct of her son. The young man was arrested last night on a warrant charging him with battery.

"I did not hurt my mother," said the young Frenchman last night. "I am not guilty of the wrong; I did not run away from my house, because she said bad things about my wife. I did not lift my hand against my mother, and I meant her no harm."

Several miles beyond the end of the Ninth-street car line is the home of the De Kersausons. The house is badly in need of repairs, and the orchards and grounds are overgrown with weeds.

In front of the place last night was a promiscuous pile of furniture and bedding thrown from the rooms on which the son and his wife had been staying. Beds, mattresses, and bedding are piled together in mute evidence of the family's flight.

De Kersauson says it is all the fault of his old mother. The old mother blames her only son.

Driven from her home at dark, the mother, a great-great-grandmother, went with her twin daughters on Savannah street.

LIGHTED LAMP THROWN.

There are two sides to the story. Some one threw a lighted lamp. The son says he dashed the lamp to the ground; the mother declares her boy, in mad fury, hurled the lighted lamp at her.

The old lady speaks not a word of English, but through an interpreter told her story. She said:

"I have lived out in that house for more than fourteen years. There was a marriage and my son paid that off. I will pay him back my rent."

"My son is a bad man," she said; "he threw a lighted lamp at me and tried to burn me to death. He wanted to kill me."

When told that her son had been arrested she almost fainted with grief.

The mother then said that the wife, her son has recently brought from Paris, is the cause of all the trouble himself.

"Please drive me away," she said between her tears, "he threw my bed into the street, he also turns my turkeys loose, and my cow he drive away, even my car drive away, he very mad."

Young De Kersauson was at home yesterday afternoon. His pretty young wife was busying herself with the affairs of the house, attempting to bring order from the chaos.

De Kersauson, with his bride of a year, came a few days ago to dwell in the family home. He had written the boy in Paris that the marriage had been foreclosed on the place and his son sent money to Los Angeles to redeem the property.

On his arrival De Kersauson claims to have found a strange family occupying the house with his mother. He ordered the family to leave. The mother declared they should stay and gave him a week to get his mother out and two children, and herself slept on the floor.

BITTER HATE FOR BRIDE.

From the first the mother is said to have shown a bitter hatred toward the young wife. The old woman, proud that in her veins flows some of the blood of La Belle France, hinted that her daughter-in-law is not of the nobility.

The son was a soldier of the Boer Army, having served in the war against the English. His lip curled with angry scorn at the mother's comment on his bride.

"My mother she said my wife is no good and I resent the base slander," said the young man. "Yes I get very angry."

"I was in the town late on Monday night. When I come home, I find my wife locked in her room. She is shaking with terror. I ask her what she means, why are you so afraid? Then my wife tell me that my mother threaten her. I am very angry."

"I go into the kitchen and what do I see? My wife is sitting in front of the pantry, all the knives and forks, all the dishes, everything, is locked in that pantry, and I say 'what is this for mother?' I try to keep very cool. She laughs all the time. Then I look to the stove. The stove is lighted, a pot and water is boiling. There is no room for my wife to make supper. Then I call my wife and I say, we are neither of us angry."

"Then we take on pot and another pot and I go outside. My mother she take up the lamp, I take it from her and throw it to the floor. My mother she go away."

From his home De Kersauson was taken last night and, accompanied by his wife, offered bail at the Police Station for his appearance to answer the charge preferred against him by his mother.

Disowned and dishonored by her only son, the aged mother was forced to apply to neighbors for a night's shelter, and yesterday appealed to the police.

AUTO THIEVES SENTENCED.

Joseph Leinen and Ernest Depew, two members of the quartette of youngsters who acknowledged the theft of two automobiles, "simply to run 'em for fun," were sentenced to 300 days each in jail by Justice Austin yesterday.

But the judge suspended sentence pending good behavior of the pair and remanded Leinen, a guardian of James De Mers, son of a widow, to the job of looking after that young worthy during his probationary term.

James McFarland, another member of the quartette, was remanded to the Juvenile court, where he has an uncompleted sentence to serve, and J. Powers, the fourth lad, was sent to the Detention Home pending his examination in the Juvenile court.

"BULLET" ATTACHED.

W. F. Twombly, inventor and exhibitor for the circus "Bullet," yesterday got from John W. Wilson &amp; Sons a blower for his machine, and didn't pay for it. The result was that yesterday morning Constable De La Monte attached the Bullet No. 2 for the debt, $12.75.

With an able corps of assistants and we went to the Curtis Park and gathered up a few carloads of sand bags and paraphernalia, which were taken to the Central warehouse. The property included one airship frame, one gas tank, rubber hose, three iron gas tanks, one gas bag and netting, one canvas tent, three bundles of sand bags and four pieces of pipe.

The entire lot is said to be worth $1400, but Twombly seems to be inclined to throw up his hands and let it go to a sale.

IT KILLED HIS DOG.

Jose Gabriel Meotes wrecks a Passenger Train After Being Refused Employment.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES: TRINIDAD (Colo.) Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch] Jose Gabriel Meotes, the Mexican charged with wrecking a Colorado and Wyoming train, several days ago, has confessed the crime. He states that he had work on the road, but was refused, being told there was none for him, and he thought that he would make work by wrecking the passenger train which killed his dog.

CLASSY RACING.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch] The first of the five races seen on the local track in recent years took place today in the first of the three days' series of light harness races being conducted here under the auspices of the Santa Ana Harness Horse Association. The first event was a 2 1/2-class pacing race for a purse of $600. Amo A, owned by S. S. Bailey, won first honors, with Electric Maiden, owned by W. A. Clark, second. The first heat was won by Amo A. in 2:18 1/4, fourth by Glen A. in 2:18 1/4, fifth by Oma A. in 2:18 1/4, third by Oma A. in 2:18 1/4, fourth by Glen A. in 2:18 1/4, fifth by Oma A. in 2:18 1/4.

The second race was a sharply contested 2 1/4-class trot for a purse of $600. Cuate, Charles Durfee's gelding, won first honors, with Electric Maiden, owned by W. A. Clark, second.

Both the first and second heats were won by Cuate in 2:15 1/4, 2:17 1/4 and 2:18 1/4. Resell went lame in the first heat and was withdrawn. All the heats were close ones, and the crowd had plenty of excitement.

Attendance was fair, and is expected to be larger tomorrow, when the match between Zoloch and Hazel Pace is pulled off.

VOYAGE TO KRONSTADT.

For fifteen years he was at large in Mexico, and was finally captured and PARIS, Nov. 15.—Reports from the five big naval ports show that a certain amount of racing is being conducted on the roads.

The first heat was won by Rostell in 2:15 1/4, and the next three by Cuate in 2:15 1/4, 2:17 1/4 and 2:18 1/4. Resell went lame in the first heat and was withdrawn. All the heats were close ones, and the crowd had plenty of excitement.

Attendance was fair, and is expected to be larger tomorrow, when the match between Zoloch and Hazel Pace is pulled off.

Thanksgiving Table Linens

From the quantities of linens we've received the past two years one would think our buyer expected to cover every dinner table in town on Thanksgiving day. And when you see the many new and handsome styles, the nearly endless varieties and compare the values with those you have known you will only wonder that we DON'T cover every table.

Linens are our specialty.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Health Commissioners have discovered that the marketing of boozed patent medicines is so protected by State statutes that it is not possible by city legislation to bar their sale.

Debtors are in despair over the report that the Health Board is about to start another "personal inspection" tour. The last tour resulted in the revoking of a dozen permits.

Cigar dealers are reported to be organizing to fight the passage of an ordinance barring dice from cigar stands.

State White desired to take advantage of a provision of the law that gives him mileage on all processes served in the county; but the District Attorney has held against the legality of such action.

Conor Garcia was held to answer yesterday for an unprovoked assault upon his wife. Preliminary, there was a sharp interview between District Attorney Dist.-Atty. North and Attorney Raymond.

Ashley and Doyle, alleged horse swindlers convicted of battery, were sentenced by Justice Chambers to four months on the chain gang; none of the four was fined.

Mr. Colman's pig for the husband's wife, who has life, served him from jail; he will leave the State.

Two young automobile thieves were given suspended sentences of 20 days each by Justice Austin; another was sent back to Whittier, and the fourth will be tried in juvenile court.

AT THIS CAFE MALL.

BOARD WILLING; BUT LAW WEAK.

CANNOT STOP SALE OF BOOZE-DOPED MEDICINES.

State Statute Makes Remarkable Exception in Favor of Proprietary Articles—Whisky Will Continue to be a "Drug" on the Local Market, Patent Medicine Legislation?

But meager program has been made by the Health Board in its campaign against the sale of patent medicines containing large amounts of alcohol.

The Health Commissioners have been fruitfully engaged in the patented boozed compounds as are protected by State Statute. The board is well-nigh powerless to trade.

Commissioners Pallette and Kurti have held a number of conferences with the attorney since the last meeting of the Health Board, but they are still far from a solution of the knotty question, how to prohibit the sale of patent medicines doped with alcohol.

BLOCKED BY STATUTE.

Several plans have been suggested for driving the boozed patent medicines off the local market, but a Health Commissioner said after the meeting, "but in every instance the remedy proposed would only increase the number of places where liquor is sold."

The sale of patent medicines in the country almost surpasses belief. I see by the State Statutes that a large amount of money was expended for patent medicines last year as for liquor. And the figures have probably been as great.

"We had hoped that the Health Board would compel the proprietors to place the information on each bottle of so-called medicine said; but according to the City Attorney, the authority to pass such legislation.

"Then we hoped to secure the adoption of an ordinance compelling the sale of patent medicines in the compound 'poison.' In this the State law interferes. There is a provision about selling poisons but an exception is made that it is not a part of the formula of a proprietary medicine. It looks as though this exception is made for the express purpose of protecting the sale of body patent medicines."

RESULT TO BE AVOIDED.

It is within the jurisdiction of the Council to pass an ordinance requiring that no medicine containing more than a stipulated per cent of alcohol should be sold without a physician's prescription.

This is the style of ordinance favored by such members of the W.C.T.U. as have taken the question up with the Board.

An objection has been raised to it, however, on the grounds that while not materially lessening the sale of patent medicines, it would increase the number of places where liquor would be offered for sale.

The proposed ordinance would not be a bar to the sale of the boozed-doped patent medicines, but a whole liquor license. Most of the large drug stores in the center of the city already hold such licenses.

But there are many other drug stores in the city that hold hundreds of dollars worth of their medicines monthly.

In order to continue the business it would be necessary for each druggist to get a wholesale license. That license would cost $10 a month.

In order to protect their proprietary compounds, it would be necessary for the patent medicine men to bear at least a part of this expense. Four or five of them would club together and pay the druggist. And with this license the druggist would literally carry a side line of straight liquors in addition to the patent medicine brand. This would mean that instead of curtailing the sale of the patent medicines, the sale of liquor would be increased.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT.

The board had hoped to receive at its meeting tonight a recommendation from the City Attorney as to the best way to start the sale of alcohol-free liquors. But yesterday afternoon the commissioners admitted that they have not been able to suggest a remedy which meets with the approval of the legal department.

There are many of the so-called medicines do carry large proportions of alcohol the reports of the City Chemist has clearly demonstrated. But, in the words of the commissioners, "it is one thing to locate a disease and another to cure it."

Present prospects are that no legislation will be started until the next meeting of the State Legislature. At that time a bill providing for the regulation of the sale of patent medicines will probably be introduced.

At the present time efforts are in progress to secure the adoption of a city ordinance requiring that all medicines containing alcohol shall bear an alcohol label.

DAIRIES CLEAN UP.

FEAR THE HEALTH BOARD.

"Pernicious activity" is the charge which local health commissioners are preferring with increasing insistence against any one of them giving a clean bill of health to a dirty dairy.

The Health Board has renewed its old system of personal inspection.

The inspections consist of flying automobile trips to inspect a single afternoon. And here is the initial step in the inspection.

The luckless milkmen whose stable milkhouse and stanchions are not equal to the high standard set.

"Never before in the ten years that I have been in the health department have the dairies been in as good condition as they are right now," said the inspector yesterday afternoon.

The action of the board last summer, when it revoked half a dozen permits, gave the Health Commission the final blow.

The dairymen are foreigners; they live in hourly fear of those visits of the inspectors.

Evidently the dairymen are not to be permitted to recover from their trepidation. Beginning next week the Health Commission will make another inspection of the dairies in the Los Angeles county furnishing milk for use in Los Angeles.

CIGAR MEN PROTEST.

JUDGMENT FOR SHERIFF.

Local cigar men are reported to be organizing to fight the proposed ordinance now before the Legislative Committee barring dice and cards from the cigar stands. The proposed ordinance was submitted to the Council at its last session by Councilman Blanchard. If it were adopted it would prohibit the sale of cards and dice at cigar stands and for drinks in saloons. The cigar men assert that the dice boxes are a wonderful stimulus to trade.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

THIS PIE NOT FOR SHERIFF.

IS DENIED EXTRA FEES PROVIDED UNDER NEW LAW.

District Attorney Holds That Incumbent of Office Is Not Entitled to Additional Mileage on Ground That Constitution Is in the Way. Successor Will Get Benefit.

Another of the perquisites of the Sheriff's office has been denied to Sheriff White, and the only comfort for the attorney is the fact that as he has not hitherto shirked the loss will not be so keen as it otherwise would have been.

The last Legislature amended a section of the County Government Act to read: "The Sheriff may retain for his own use the mileage for service of process and for traveling expenses by the court of the State." So far as the words no change had been made, but a later clause had been decapitated which read "outside of his own county."

The amendment consisted of the omission of this last sentence.

The papers and processes issued from the county this county are numerous and mileage would be given to quite a handsome figure. Sheriff White wanted all the law allowed to apply to the District Attorney.

Mr. White, however, is a strong advocate of the county almost surpasses belief. I see by the State Statutes that a large amount of money was expended for patent medicines last year as for liquor. And the figures have probably been as great.

"We had hoped that the Health Board would compel the proprietors to place the information on each bottle of so-called medicine said; but according to the City Attorney, the authority to pass such legislation.

"Then we hoped to secure the adoption of an ordinance compelling the sale of patent medicines in the compound 'poison.'

In this the State law interferes.

There is a provision in the Constitution which provides that "the constitution of the state and nation is in the way. Successor Will Get Benefit.

AN ELUSIVE HUSBAND.

LIKE IRISHMAN'S FLEA.

Louis F. Haddican appeared in court yesterday for the second time trying to get a divorce. August of last year Judge Trask turned her application down because the full year necessary for divorce had not yet arrived. Then Judge Monroe granted a decree, but not before Mrs. Haddican and her husband had fought the issue out.

Mr. Shaw also drew attention to the fact that he (the Sheriff) had been refused for all outlays and always has been, and now allowed mileage as provided by this amendment for traveling services, that would be clear proof he would amend an increase of compensation, which is constitutionally prohibited to all officeholders during their term of office.

Garcia was held to answer in the Superior Court.

This additional perquisite will escape collection at least until the next Sheriff is sworn in.

AGAIN MRS. MORLEY.

DIVORCED FROM ARMITAGE.

Mrs. Alice May Morley, wife of "Jim" Morley, the baseball enigma, is not too recent days: Mrs. Alice May Morley, as she became in 1902; and Mrs. Alice May Morley, as she again became yesterday, entreated Judge Monroe to grant her divorce. Monroe said he would do so, but never got tired and came to Los Angeles on his way back to Bakersfield.

Except $500 he never sent his wife a cent in support. She was weary of such an existence and applied for divorce. He contested the case, but yesterday the allegation of failure to provide was established to the satisfaction of the court and the decree was granted.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

JAIL SENTENCE.

FOR HORSEMEN.

ASHTON AND DOYLE BOOKED FOR THE CHAIN GANG.

Alleged Swindlers, Accused by David Low of Battery in Connection With Equine Deal, Given Four-month Prison Terms—Counsel Seeks Notice of Appeal.

Justice Chambers handed out a stiff sentence to the two men.

David Low, horse dealer, to serve terms of 10 days each on the chain gang.

Doyle and Ashton were convicted Tuesday afternoon and remanded without bail to await sentence. Attorney Hupp filed a motion for a new trial, which was granted and offered a bill of exceptions to the rulings of the court, but Justice Chambers denied the motion and sentenced the defendants to jail for four months each, with no alternative of paying a fine.

The testimony in the case showed with reasonable distinctness, Doyle and Ashton are required to pay to the city in manual labor $300, which is the same amount David Low paid for the stock he sold to the swindlers.

Doyle and Ashton were convicted of swindling the city out of $300.

On the large bell appears the following inscription:

To the Imperishable Memory of

Mrs. ELIZA E. OTIS, in her

Honored Wife of Gen. Harrison Gray

Otis.

This Chime of Bells has been reared by the friends loving hearts and willing hands joined together in the Memorial

Association.

Dedicated, with appropriate ceremonies on this spot, Nov. 15, 1906.

Farewell, high and noble soul, faithful friend, light of the home, and gentle Christian gentlewoman, until the eternal morning pale in its glories all the lights of Time."

Upon the other bells are inscribed verses written by Mrs. Otis, as follows:

BEYOND. (1904.)

The morning of my earth life, O how far I lie behind me! Past my noon and I.

When golden shines the sun within the sky, I know the hour when shines the evening star.

Yet morning lies beyond—the better morn. Which may be mine through Christ, the living way.

The glorious morning of a better day,

The hours of earth will be before its dawn.

WOMAN. (1895.)

Yet today wide swing

The golden doors of Opportunity,

Which may wisely enter if she but

Heeds the simple law of right: "do first the Duty that lies nearest thee."

The doors bravely onward into broader fields.

Seize with thy might whatever duty

Duty for the world, hold to the good and true,

And Home's crown, O woman! waits

for you.

THE NIGHT. (1901.)

So as the darkness doth unveil the vast

Death shall enlarge our wisdom when we cast

The shades of flesh aside, and soul-life into the springing

Life fullness with eternal things,

Drinking God's glory in until we rise.

The sun all ear—in Paradise.

Death shall bring the soul's morning

as the night falls.

Brings countless stars the daylight hides from sight.

HOME. (1893.)

The world has nothing that is half so fair

As that green island in its desert waste.

That we call Home. Oasis-like, it has

Its own delights, its pleasant atmos-

Its song and laughter, and its hearts

Not doubt, that breathe but faith and loyalty.

The sun shines ever there—the sun of Love.

SUNRISE. (1908.)

O sunrise gates! the gold of heaven

Has dropped between your bars,

And Laid her shining curtain draws

Between us and the stars—

California."
